

Percent of respondents reporting statement is 'True'

Coronavirus is only dangerous for older people

If someone has been infected with coronavirus they can transmit the virus to someone else even if they do not feel sick or have any symptoms

There are currently no medicines or vaccine that prevent COVID-19

